In this third sphere is located the city "Nosso Lar," above the city of Rio de Janeiro, at an altitude that we cannot specify, but which is in the ionosphere.

About these three spheres, André Luiz's books give us news, depicting buildings and organizations maintained by Spirits of Good, to help and assist less advanced Spirits, as well as informing us about the conditions in which suffering Spirits live outside the protection of these organizations.

The third sphere, strictly speaking, remains part of the Umbral because, as a transitional sphere, it hosts Spirits in need of reincarnation.

In the third sphere, there is the city of "Nosso Lar," located above Rio de Janeiro at an unspecified altitude, but it exists within the ionosphere.

André Luiz's books offer insights into these three spheres, illustrating the buildings and organizations established by benevolent Spirits to help and support less developed Spirits.

Additionally, the books describe the conditions in which suffering Spirits exist outside the protection of these organizations.

From what one can infer from the narratives of the mentioned Messenger, the spiritual spheres are characterized by distinct vibrations, which increase in purity as they move further away from the core.

The Earth acts as a large magnet, projecting into space and sustaining an active, differentiated magnetic field that surrounds these spiritual spheres. For example, when Earth's and Mars's magnetic forces balance and interact, the two worlds can interpenetrate through their extreme spheres.

However, from the Earth's crust to that boundary, continents and seas stretch outward. Wherever a spirit resides, determined by its vibratory identity, it will always have solid ground beneath it and an open sky above, even if it cannot see the spheres above.

In this position, the spirit shares the same planetary geography and time zone as our own because it exists within the same temporal framework.

Reading André Luiz, when he describes the second and third spheres, we realize that both have firm, solid ground and fertile land covered with vegetation. It's easy to see that, for their inhabitants, we are living inside the Earth. We also see in André Luiz's books that Spirits above can travel through the spheres below them, but Spirits in the lower spheres cannot, on their own, pass to the higher spheres.

Transit between the spheres happens in different ways. One method is through "roads of light," which the Spirits refer to as special paths designed for more significant transportation. Through so-called "exit fields," which are points where two nearby spheres touch, and through waters, presumably those surrounding the continents. On page 50 of "Liberation," 9th ed., there are references to "exit fields." When describing how, in a dream, he moved to a higher sphere (1), André Luiz refers to a vessel with a helmsman holding the rudder, and with an upward movement, emerging in front of a port—indicating that the passage occurred through ocean waters.

These are just a few basic aspects of a pretty outstanding issue: the spiritual realms of Earth. In the future, the Spirits will surely offer more insights into this and other significant topics, helping us better understand the world beyond our vibratory limits.

One can reach this conclusion based on the statement on page 85 of the book "Os Mensageiros" (The Messengers), 14th edition, which we will transcribe now, at the end of this chapter:

"(...) However, André, there are other subtle worlds within the gross worlds, wonderful spheres that interpenetrate each other. The human eye suffers from various limitations, and all physical lenses combined would not be able to capture the field of the soul, which requires the development of spiritual faculties to become perceptible.

Electricity and magnetism are two powerful forces beginning to reveal some of the invisible, infinite potentials to our incarnate brothers. However, it is still too early to see this as a complete success. Only those with developed spiritual senses can perceive certain details of the landscapes before us. Many people associated with the Crust do not understand these truths until they lose their most important physical connections. It is the law that we should only perceive what we can observe with benefit."

Now, the images of the original book are on the next pages.

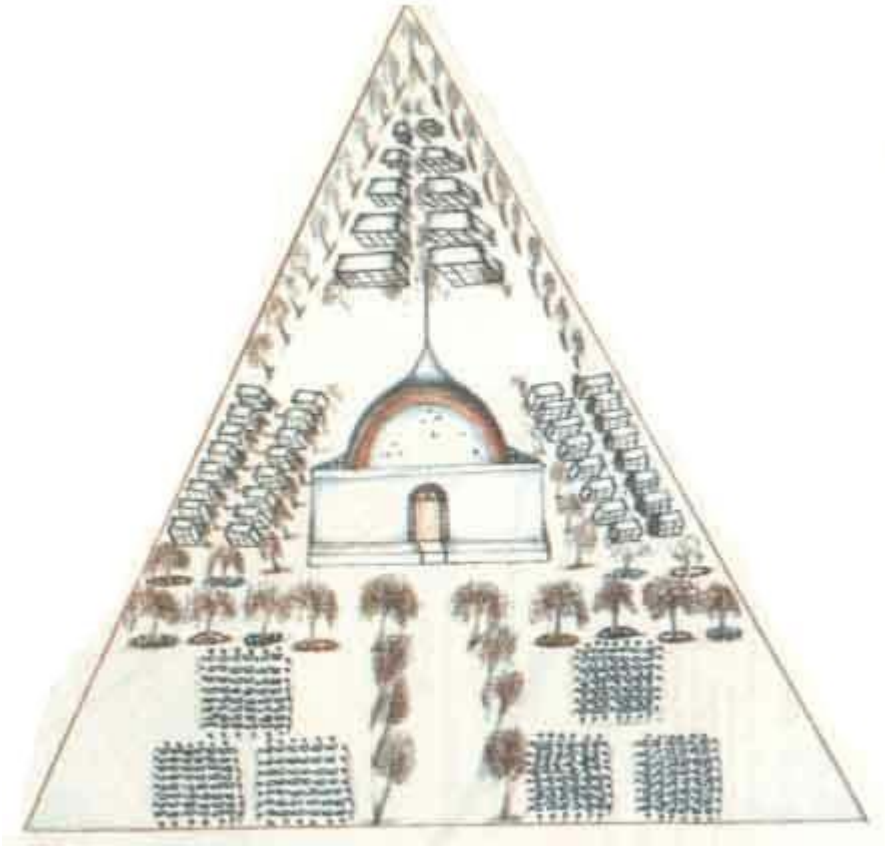
02 ~ Restriction Pavilion, in the Ministry of Regeneration, where Spirits are prepared for reincarnation by having their spiritual body restricted to a size appropriate for the process.



3 ~ One of the initiation temples, in the Ministry of Divine Union, was built in Egyptian style.

05 ~ In the parks of Enlightenment education.

"A veritable castle of vegetation, star~shaped, within which five numerous classes of learning are housed. In the center, there is a huge device designed for image demonstration, similar to a terrestrial cinematograph, with which it is possible to carry out five varied, simultaneous projections."

06 – The city Nosso Lar, marked with a star, is located in the third sphere above the Crust, over an extensive region of the State of Rio de Janeiro (between the cities of Rio de Janeiro and Campos/Itaperuna), in a strip that can be defined as the periphery of the Umbral.
